

Security Information

The PresentationLoad GmbH, Rheinstraße 15, 55283 Nierstein, Germany (hereinafter referred to as "PresentationLoad") represents the concerns of data protection very seriously and wants to make sure that your privacy is protected as a user of PresentationLoad's products and services. PresentationLoad therefore has created a data protection explanation where customers find the information on PresentationLoad's handling of their personal data. PresentationLoad reserves the right to adapt the contents of this privacy policy from time to time. It is therefore recommended to periodically take note of the Privacy Policy again.

1. General

PresentationLoad is committed to fully comply the applicable data protection law, in particular the provisions of the Federal Data Protection Law (BDSG) and the Telemedia Law (TMG). PresentationLoad processes and uses your personal information only with your consent or has a legal permission for process or usage. The only data processed and used is the data necessary for the performance of our services and the use of our website which you voluntary inform us about.

2. Personal Data

Personal data is information about personal or material circumstances of a specific or identifiable natural person ("data"), § 3 paragraph 1 BDSG. This also includes the following information about your person.

3. Processing and Usage of your Data

PresentationLoad collects processes and uses the data you have notified PresentationLoad about by registering for PresentationLoad's products and services, only to the extent required for the following purposes:

PresentationLoad products and services:

The processing and use of data will take place in the fulfillment of the legal relations between you PresentationLoad's existing obligation for the resulting services. In addition, processes and uses PresentationLoad your data for purposes of management of the user account, administration of email accounts including order and payment processing (see more below).

Recommendation:

PresentationLoad gives you the opportunity to recommend the services to others by sending informational emails to your friends. PresentationLoad does not store your friends' data.

Marketing purposes:

If you have approved or did not specifically disapprove, PresentationLoad will send you product information regularly.

Personalization of the offer:

For the optimal design of PresentationLoad's offer, PresentationLoad stores cookies on your PC (see below Section 5).

In addition, PresentationLoad notes technical data, such as the name of your Internet service provider, Internet browser, operating system, screen resolution, and information on the website that led you to the website of PresentationLoad, number and date of visits, average time spent and visited pages on the website. This data will be automatically saved. The evaluation remains anonymous and serves only statistical purposes with the aim to continuously improve our web site for you.

To ensure effective access protection PresentationLoad may temporarily save your IP address. IP addresses are number sequences that serve to address the data packets on the Internet. In case of abuse report the IP address of the alleged pseudonym will be saved once on the first login after the abuse report and together with an appropriate court order passed on with the other personal data to the appropriate law enforcement authorities. If the abuse report proves to be unfounded, the stored IP address will be immediately deleted.

4. Transfer of Personal Data

PresentationLoad won't pass on your data to a third party, unless you have expressed prior consent or the transmission is legally required. PresentationLoad will not sell your information to third parties or market them anywhere. The transfers of data to government institutions and authorities will only happen in a case of binding national legislation. Our co-workers and partners are committed to secrecy and obligated to the compliance of data protection.

5. Cookies

PresentationLoad uses cookies to recognize you when you visit the website and for the proper functioning to store technical data of certain areas on your computer. A cookie is a text file that is stored on your computer and allows an analysis of your use of the site. PresentationLoad stores this cookie using only one session each random number and serial number of your visit.

If you do not want the use of cookies you can deactivate the use in your browser. Details are provided in the instructions of your browser manufacturer. In that case it is possible that parts of our site and the offered services do not function properly.

To ensure the tailored design and optimum performance of this website, solutions and technologies by econda GmbH not only collect and store anonymized data, but also utilize this data to compile usage profiles by means of pseudonyms. Cookies can be used for this purpose which makes it possible for an Internet browser to be recognized. Without the express consent of a visitor, however, usage profiles will not be stored together with data pertaining to the pseudonymous visitor. IP addresses, in particular, are rendered indecipherable immediately after receipt, which makes it impossible to match a usage profile with an IP address. Visitors to this website can opt out here - at any time - of the collecting and storing of their data. For more information visit: www.econda.de.

6. Data Security

Your payments data will be transmitted in encrypted form during the order process. We protect our website and other systems with technical and organizational measures against loss, destruction, access, modification, and spreading of your data by unauthorized persons. You should always handle your access information in strict confidence and close the browser window after finishing communication with us, especially when you are using the computer with other people.

7. Contact Person for Data Security

If you have any questions concerning data collection, processing or usage of your personal data or if you need information, adjustment, blocking, or deletion of your data and want to recant approvals, please refer to our contact person for data security:
